

DYER'S WOAD

COLORING PAGE

Dyer's Woad is a plant with yellow flowers and blue-green leaves with a white stripe down the middle. The seeds turn from yellow to purplish or black as it grows. Dyer's Woad crowds out our native plants and other beneficial plants that animals depend on for food. Most animals won't eat it because they do not like the taste.

FLOWERS

SEED PODS